1. The "Duplicates" column includes e-mails over which Retrophin maintains a privilege claim that is identical to the privilege claim in the logged document. This includes both exact copies of the logged e-mail as well as e-mails which, although not exact copies, are part of the same thread, and in which the redacted content is the same as the redacted content in the logged e-mail. As such, Retrophin's privilege claim over the logged document will determine whether it may maintain privilege over the duplicates.
